

Fatih Ömerođlu

He was born in 1977 in Istanbul. He graduated from Ege University Bergama Vocational High School Restoration and Conservation Associate Degree in 1997 and Mimar Sinan University Faculty of Fine Arts Traditional Turkish Handicrafts in 2002. Since 1996, his articles and illustrations have been published in various magazines and newspapers. Between 2000 and 2002, he taught fine arts and mental capacity development courses at the Educational Volunteers Foundation of Türkiye. He founded Mim Book Arts Classic Bookbinding Workshop in 2005 and Nun Mektebi in 2006. Between 2006 and 2008, he continued to give fine arts classes in private institutions. In 2008, he founded Alem-i Misal advertising agency. Ömerođlu, who is also interested in comics and animation film directing, participated in many group exhibitions and curated some of these exhibitions. His novel "Racon" was published in 2016. He directed many documentaries on fine arts. He opened his first solo exhibition "Ara-Yan" in 2021. He continues to serve as a curator and a consultant at international and national festivals and organisations.

He is always writing, drawing, designing and searching...